Moving Services

Moving from one city to another, be it in Italy or abroad, can become a nightmare if we are not supported by experts in the field or if we choose the wrong moving company. Moving is not just transporting objects from one place to another, but an intricate art that requires the analysis of uncountable interconnected factors. That is why, when we decide to move, it is necessary to choose companies with highly trained technicians prepared to control every single detail. We give lots of importance to customer care, in order to understand their needs and to solve possible problems linked to the move. In Italy or abroad, we at Magnolia Moving can help you in each phase: from free pre-move survey to providing all necessary material to avoid damages.

National move

How does it work?

PROVIDING FIRST CLASS PACKING MATERIALS

Outstanding packing materials are necessary to protect your furniture and personal belongings in an optimal way, with care and without risk during handling and transport. Magnolia Moving envisages various phases of work which help to speed up the moving process and most of all make sure everything reaches its destination intact. It is important for us to create a service tailored to our customers needs, because each person has specific requirements during a move. After the first contact, we do a completely free pre-move survey which will help determine the volume and type of goods to be transported, the time required and possible difficulties of access from starting point to destination. On top of these first steps, a national move requires:

BUILDING WOODEN CRATES

We proceed with custom made crates, ideal to securely transport the most fragile and important goods on an emotional and financial level.

ASKING FOR PERMITS

We can request all necessary permits like parking ones and provide ladder trucks where needed.

PROFESSIONAL TECHNICIANS

Our technicians know how to move heavy and precious objects like pianos, marbles, fine arts or safes.

International move

how does it work?

Moving by truck: With a direct transport, the client can choose a precise date for pick up/ delivery. In case of groupage, the costs of moving are divided among the various clients so far as there is more flexibility of deadlines.

Moving by sea: In case of a move outside of Europe, client can choose between two different shipping types: the full container load (FCL), loading goods in a designated container, or the less container load, which means sending goods by cargo stowed in special wooden crates.

Moving by air: Recommended for smaller and more urgent shipments. In this case the goods are placed inside IATA cases, complying with requirements to access the hold as determined by various companies who offer this service.

Our company Magnolia Moving will take care of the filling in of all necessary documents at customs and will take care of all bureaucracy.
